Statement from a Virgin Australia Group spokesperson:

“Virgin Australia is making it more affordable than ever for Aussie travellers to visit the Northern Territory, and we’re excited to launch today’s Seek adveNTure sale with flights to Alice Springs and Darwin from as low as $129, which is up to 30 per cent off,” they said.

“We know the Seek adveNTure sale will really help to boost passenger numbers into the Territory, particularly from the southern states, as border restrictions ease. The economic injection from more visitors will help the many hundreds of local tourism operators bounce back from the pandemic over the next few months, with sale fares available until 23 June 2022.

“With prices this low, we expect the sale fares will sell out quickly, so we’re encouraging travellers who are planning their NT holiday, to book now on our website.

“In a nod to our brand’s music roots, the sale also includes travel dates over the Bassinthegrass weekend in May next year, so music lovers can grab themselves a bargain airfare to Darwin to enjoy the NT’s biggest music festival, which is on sale now.

“Virgin Australia is continuing to offer free booking flexibility for travel until 30 April 2022, so customers can feel confident to make a booking now, knowing they can change the date of travel if they need to,” they said.
