SilkAir Joins Velocity Frequent Flyer ^[2]

Virgin Australia announced today that SilkAir (MI), the regional airline of Singapore Airlines, will become the latest airline partner to join the growing Velocity Frequent Flyer program.

Effective from 10 October 2013, Velocity members will be able to earn Points and Status Credits or redeem their Points on the SilkAir network across South East Asia, India and China. This includes the ability to redeem Points for Reward Seats or Any Seat up to 331 days in advance on any SilkAir operated flights.

Velocity Frequent Flyer CEO Neil Thompson said, "Today's announcement builds on our existing offering with Singapore Airlines. Asia is a very important market for business and leisure travellers and we now offer the ability to earn Points and Status Credits to more destinations than ever before."

Velocity's Gold and Platinum members will also be able to use their Elite Benefits across the SilkAir network including priority check-in, priority boarding and complimentary lounge access for the member and a guest on day of travel.

SilkAir is Singapore Airline's full service regional subsidiary flying to over 44 destinations across 12 countries. SilkAir flies from Darwin to Singapore, connecting the Northern Territory with Singapore Airlines' global hub.
