"A number of our team members identify as LGBTQ+, and we embrace the challenge to not only create an inclusive organisation where everyone can be their true self at work, every day, but an organisation that is representative of the communities in which we live, work and fly - the Pride Flight is a testament to that.

"Pride Flight is about supporting the LGBTQ+ community and we're going to have a lot of fun with it. Tickets are only $150 for Economy one-way and $350 for Business Class one-way and like all Virgin Australia flights, the ticket comes with baggage, seat selection and Velocity Frequent Flyer Points."

Pride Flight host and Virgin Australia cabin crew member Penny Tration said she looks forward to returning to the skies donning her red uniform and fabulous personality.

"Arm doors and cross-check, we're about to take fabulous flying to a whole new level!

"I've been flying with Virgin Australia for 14 years and it's an honour to show Australia just how proud we are and we're literally putting the most fabulous flight in the air and I can't wait," she laughed.
